The bib of an unlicensed participant can also be withdrawn by a third party, under the same conditions.

Article 6. Bib numbers

The allocation of bib numbers will be done at the discretion of the organiser. It is the sole responsibility of the organiser and it will not be possible to modify the bib number under any circumstances.

Article 7. Payment by debit/credit card

Payment can only be made by debit/credit card (VISA, MASTERCARD, etc.). The card will be immediately debited when registering.

Article 8. Absence of right of withdrawal

The service offered being a leisure service to be provided on a set date, the buyer does not benefit from any withdrawal period.

Article 9. Postponement of date

In the event of a complete cancellation of the event for the year 2025, without the possibility of carrying over to the same year, the Organizer may offer, depending on the circumstances, compensation such as the substitution by another Event organized by the Organizer, the postponement to the 2026 edition or the refund of the price of the bib.

Article 10. Refunds

All registrations are firm and final. In the event of non-participation in the race, the participant can claim no refund of the registration fees.

In any case, the full refund of registration fees is only possible in the event of total cancellation of the competition caused by the fault of the organiser. In every other situation, no refund will be made.

Article 11. Race modification

No race modification will be possible after Friday 13 June 2025.

Article 12. Race cancellation

Should the race be cancelled for security reasons (public health, weather conditions, case of force majeure), the competition may take place as a duathlon. Should it be impossible to carry out the race, competitors waive as of now any future claim to reimbursement

Article 13. Event cancellation for reasons beyond the organiser's control

In the event of cancellation for reasons beyond the organiser's control (case of force majeure, security imperatives, weather conditions, decision of the administrative authorities, etc...) no refund will be made and the participant will not be able to claim compensation from the organiser.

Article 14. Limitation of the organiser's liability

The organiser's liability for any material or commercial prejudice is excluded. This limitation does not apply when the prejudice is caused by the intentional fault or the serious negligence of the organiser, or the organiser's failure to meet a key contractual obligation, or in the event of a threat to the life, physical integrity or health of a person. The aforementioned limitation of liability also extends to the personal liability of the employees, representatives, agents and third parties whom the organiser calls on in connection with the organisation of the event and with whom it is bound by contract.

The organiser declines all responsibility for health risks incurred by the participant due to their participation in the event. The participant acknowledges that participation in the event could entail serious risks that may go as far as the participant's death. The participant confirms and accepts that he is solely responsible for knowing whether his state of health allows him to participate in the event. The participant also declares that no doctor or other healthcare professional has advised against taking part.

The participant is solely responsible for his personal belongings and sports equipment.

The participant acknowledges they may come across vehicles and/or pedestrians on the course and that they assume the risks related to these circumstances during their participation, notably during the running, cycling and swimming segments. Furthermore, the participant acknowledges the following risks related to their participation in the competition, on the understanding that the list is non-exhaustive: risk of falling, collision with vehicles, pedestrians, other participants and/or objects; risks related to ground conditions, technical incidents and equipment failure, insufficient protective equipment; risks and dangers caused by spectators, volunteers or bad weather. The participant commits to becoming familiar with the course and transition areas prior to the event. Participation in the event is deemed as demonstrating the participant's acceptance of the course and transition areas as they have been set up.

The participant commits to immediately inform the organiser of any danger they may have knowledge of concerning the course and/or transition areas.

The participant declares being aware of the risks related to the consumption of alcohol, medicine and drugs that may affect their judgement and physical abilities, before, during or after the event. The participant is solely responsible for all consequences that may result from the consumption of such substances.

The participant consents in advance to receiving any care and medical treatment that are necessary during the competition. The cost of medical care and treatment is not included in the registration fees and will therefore be charged to the participant at the usual rate. As the organiser does not offer insurance covering the cost of medical care, it is the responsibility of the participant to subscribe to any necessary or useful insurance for this purpose. The organiser accepts no liability in this respect.

The organiser cannot be held liable for any loss or theft of the participant's belongings. Furthermore, the organiser declines all responsibility for the loss or theft of belongings that the participant entrusts free of charge to third parties mandated by the organiser, it being understood that the organiser remains responsible for any serious mistakes made in the exercise of the choice of these third parties.

If the minor does not hold a valid FFTRI "competition practice" licence, the legal guardian of the minor must subscribe to the competition pass when registering them online.

Article 16. Conditions for validation of inscription to Deauville Normandy Triathlon

For the races of individuals:

- Pay the fee;
- Provide the requested supporting documents (valid licence or complete the health form);

Article 17. Insurance

The organiser of the Deauville Normandy Triathlon does not cover any material damage that could be caused to bicycles belonging to participants, whether they are licensees or not of the French Triathlon Federation.

Day pass = THIRD PARTY LIABILITY INSURANCE

Those acquiring a day pass are hereby informed:

- that they benefit, within the context of this event, from the guarantees foreseen in the contract for third-party liability insurance subscribed by the FFTRI;
- that the day pass does not include any type of personal insurance;
- that it may be advisable to take out, through the insurance company of their choice, a personal insurance which covers the risk of any physical injury they may encounter during the practice of sport;
- that their bike is not covered by the insurance. Any damage they cause to their own or any one else's bicycle is not covered by the federation's third-party liability insurance;
- that any damage that third parties could cause to their bike are not covered by the federation's third-party liability insurance.

FFTRI licensees

In accordance with the insurance information leaflet handed over when you took out your licence, the organiser:

- Draws your attention to the advantages of subscribing to a personal insurance policy that covers the bodily injury to which your sporting activity exposes you;
- Reminds you that you can opt to take out additional «bodily harm» coverage to enhance the basic guarantees of the policy
- Reminds you that you can opt to take out “bicycle damage’ coverage. Indeed, damage to bicycles is not covered, including in the third party liability insurance, when there is a collision between triathletes.

Licensees of a non-French triathlon federation affiliated to ITU

When a non-French athlete who has an FFTRI licence or another licence recognised by ITU has an accident in France, during an event organised by or regulated by the FFTRI, MONDIAL ASSISTANCE can pay the hospitals directly, in order to avoid the need for funds to be advanced by the FFTRI, regional leagues, departmental committees, clubs, associations, affiliated establishments or the beneficiary. No cheque of payment for the amount to be guaranteed will be requested by MONDIAL ASSISTANCE, which will directly re-invoice ALLIANZ. The amount of medical and hospital expenses paid directly to hospital organisations by MONDIAL cannot exceed the limit of the guarantees foreseen in the federal contract.

Article 18. Cession of image rights

By accepting the terms and conditions herewith, each participant grants their full permission to the organiser of the Deauville Normandy Triathlon and to its beneficiaries such as commercial and media partners, to publish, use or have used, copy or have copied, without remuneration, their name, image (photographs, videos), voice (interviews, videos) and their sporting activity within the context of the event, for any direct or derived use of the race, and this in any format upon which they could appear upon the occasion of their participation in the Deauville Normandy Triathlon, notably video, CD, DVD, radio, television, podcast, webcast (internet), recordings, films, publicity, advertising material, including promotional and/or advertising documents, worldwide and for the longest period currently authorised by law, regulations and treaties, including any extensions that may be made to this duration.

The audio-visual rights relating to the competition belong exclusively to the organiser.

Article 19. Data protection

The data gathered is necessary for your registration and to manage any optional services (individual option for organisation of medical care, cancellation...) that you may have chosen to acquire. Data is subject to computer processing and is intended for the use of the organiser’s secretariat. By registering, the participant accepts and expressly authorises the collection and processing of their personal data for the aforementioned purposes.

Personal data collected in accordance with the article may be forwarded to third-party providers responsible for timing the participant, drawing up the result lists and publishing them on the internet. By registering, the participant expressly accepts and authorises the collection and use of their personal data for this purpose.

In accordance with the French data protection act of 6 January 1978, amended in 2004, you benefit from the right to access and rectify any data concerning yourself; a right which you can exercise by sending an email to contact@triathlondeauville.com, indicating your surname, name, address and, if possible, your registration reference.

You may also, for legitimate reasons, object to the processing of data about yourself.
